Background on the Gospel Reading

Every year the Church recalls the example, witness, and prayer of the holy women and men who have been identified by the Church as Saints. These saints are more than just role models; they are family members with whom we continue to share relation, in a bond of prayer, called the Communion of Saints. Every year when we celebrate this day, the Gospel we proclaim recalls for us Jesus' teaching about happiness, the Beatitudes. We quickly note in this reading that none of those Jesus names as "blessed" or "happy" are expected . . . the poor in spirit, the meek, the persecuted. Jesus' blueprint for happiness reflects little of what the world might call happiness.

What does Jesus mean when he uses the word "blessed?" This word is sometimes translated as "happy" or "fortunate" or "favored." In other words, Jesus is saying that divine favor is upon those who are poor, who mourn, who are persecuted. This might have been welcome and surprising news to the crowds who heard Jesus that day.

SUNDAY'S GOSPEL REFLECTION:

In today's gospel reading of the beatitudes, Jesus is giving us a portrait of such a person, a kind of stained glass window in words of the saint. He is portraying a way of life for every disciple, not just for a select few. Each beatitude is like a piece of coloured glass that goes to make up the portrait that Jesus is creating. The beatitudes are firstly a portrait of Jesus himself, but they are also a portrait of the kind of person he calls each of us to become. They are a portrait of sons and daughters of God. We have all known people who have the qualities that Jesus portrays here. We might think of the gentle people who quietly try to do what God wants without insisting on their own way. We thing of those who mourn because they are deeply disturbed by all the suffering and injustice in our world. Such people often have a deeply rooted hunger and thirst for God's justice to prevail in our world and act out of that hunger and thirst. We know people who are merciful, who look with eyes of mercy on those who need it most. Then there are the peacemakers who, against all the odds, work tirelessly to bring God's peace, God's fullness of life, where there is conflict and suffering. We think of the pure in heart, those whose heart is given over to God and God's purpose for our lives and our world. Hopefully, each of us might feel that we belong in this wonderfully rich portrait that Jesus gives us – at least on our good days!
