May the Month of Mary

The Catholic Church dedicates the entire month of May to the Blessed Virgin Mary, mother of God and spiritual mother of all. In the plan of salvation, the Blessed Virgin Mary holds a special place.

By virtue of her role to be the mother of the Son of God by divine election, she was conceived immaculately — i.e., without the stain of original sin — and by fidelity to her son has been crowned queen of heaven and earth. Everything Mary said and did leads to Christ.

Mary knew and loved Jesus like no one else on earth — and she loves each of her children, human beings, with similar affection and tenderness.

La Ascension del Señor

La fiesta de la Ascensión del Señor a los cielos que hoy celebramos, cierra el ciclo de la presencia de Jesús en la tierra, aunque bien sabemos que, hace una despedida con una promesa: “yo estoy con vosotros todos los días, hasta el fin de los tiempos” (Mt 28,20).

Lo hemos visto nacer pobre en Belén, crecer y fortalecerse en Nazaret, predicar y hacer milagros a lo ancho y a lo largo de su tierra de Palestina, padecer, sufrir y morir bajo el poder de Poncio Pilatos y resucitar al tercer día de entre los muertos, apareciéndose y confirmando a los suyos... aunque “algunos dudaron”, nos dice el evangelio de Mateo. ¿No había sido suficiente la aparición a las mujeres, a Tomás, a Cleofás y el “otro” de Emaús, la conversación con Pedro y con todos varias veces...?

7th Sunday Ascension of the Lord

May 17

The resurrection is not a simple fact but a lived reality. In fact, the last word on the resurrection has not yet been spoken. Jesus, the Son of God, will speak that last word when he raises us all from the dead, when we who have lived out his mandate to make disciples of all nations wake up to eternal life. Or, perhaps more accurately, since Jesus is the Word of God, the last word will be spoken by God the Father, when he seals all reality in Christ, when the heavenly Jerusalem descends and Christ takes his bride, the Church, to himself forever.

The event of the resurrection is not over. In the Acts of the Apostles, Jesus says to those gathered for his Ascension, “You will receive power when the Holy Spirit comes upon you, and you will be my witnesses in Jerusalem, throughout Judea and Samaria and to the ends of the earth.” This follows very closely on what Jesus has said about himself at the end of Matthew’s Gospel: “All power in heaven and on earth has been given to me. Go, therefore, and make disciples of all nations.” The power that has raised Jesus from the dead, the power by which the one who is true God and true man lives in perfect unity of divine spirit and human flesh, that same power belongs to those who believe in Christ, who receive the Holy Spirit, who, themselves, will rise from the dead when God speaks his last word.

Doubt, in the meantime, is met with work. We do the work of making Christ Jesus known as risen from the dead and the more we do this work, the more we feel his resurrection power, the grace of God, at work in us. Faith does more than receive a fact. Faith moves mountains and faith in the resurrection of Jesus carries the mountain of humanity upward, from its slumping acceptance of life and death in a fallen world into the celestial Church.

Faith is a lifetime’s work and the apostles of Jesus do this work over their lifetime. Matthew and Mark can confidently include notes about the disciples’ doubt because those same disciples are at work decades later, proclaiming the Gospel, performing the works of mercy, and offering their bodies in living sacrifice, certain, without a doubt, that they will rise with Christ Jesus on the last day.
