«Era conducido por el Espíritu en el desierto, durante cuarenta días, tentado por el diablo»

Con los ojos puestos en Cristo, vencedor del mal, los cristianos hoy nos sentimos estimulados a adentrarnos en el camino de la Cuaresma. Nos empuja a ello el deseo de autenticidad: ser plenamente aquello que somos, discípulos de Jesús y, con Él, hijos de Dios. Por esto queremos profundizar en nuestra adhesión honda a Jesucristo y a su programa de vida que es el Evangelio: «No sólo de pan vive el hombre» (Lc 4,4).

Let the Scriptures Speak

1st week of Lent

look beyond

Brothers and sisters, may this Lent be for us a reminder to look beyond the here and now and focus on that which is eternal and beneficial to our souls. We are not just material beings — we are spiritual beings who need nourishment from the words of God that we hear in Scripture, and who need the ultimate nourishment, the Eucharist, the Word of God made flesh. Without this we become empty; we wind up like those objects in the mosaic, which though at one time beautiful, are, in the end, strewn about, useless, with no life in them. And so we are reminded to focus, especially during this Lenten season, on spiritual things, to prioritize those things in our life that are really most important, those things which will bring us closer in love for God and neighbor, and to nourish our souls with spiritual graces that will bring us to everlasting life. Jesus himself reminds us of this: “Heaven and earth will pass away, but my words will not pass away” (Mt 24:35). And so this Lent, when we find ourselves tempted by Satan in the desert to seek comfort or pleasure or attachment to passing things, let us respond with the words of Christ: “One does not live on bread alone, but on every word that comes forth from the mouth of God.”
